The 36th Annual Meeting of the Society for Thermal Medicine will provide an arena for presentations of latest data, concepts, and breakthroughs in our ever-expanding understanding of thermal medicine in the context of medicine, engineering, physics, materials science, biology and immunology. Keynote and Plenary speakers will highlight the extensive connections among clinical applications of thermal medicine, onco-immunology, physics, biology, imaging, and the thermal state. International thought leaders will lead breakout sessions on:

- Clinical trials in cancer and other diseases
- Traditional hyperthermia
- HIPEC
- Ablative thermal therapy
- Cryotherapy
- Thermal modeling
- Nanotechnology
- Tissue engineering and immune engineering
- Functional imaging
- Cellular response to stress to thermal therapy
- Immunology/immunotherapy in thermal medicine
- Combination therapies with hyperthermia and cryotherapy
- Thermal medicine in infectious diseases

...and many more!

We look forward to seeing you in sunny St. Pete Beach!

ABOUT OUR SOCIETY

The Society for Thermal Medicine’s mission is to significantly improve patient treatment outcomes by advancing the science, development and application of Thermal Therapy. thermaltherapy.org

This society strives to:
• Promote discovery in thermal biology, physics/engineering, and medicine.
• Sponsor high quality forums for education of medical professionals in the practice of thermal medicine, including hyperthermia, thermal and cryo-ablation.
• Advocate for increased patient access to appropriate, high quality thermal therapies.

From their historical roots to the present day, members of the Society for Thermal Medicine continue to push the boundaries and break barriers in basic, translational, and clinical research to improve therapy for patients with cancer and other debilitating and life-threatening diseases. New heating, cooling, and imaging platforms, and drug/radiation-enhancing nanoparticles, heat-driven vaccine development and gene-expression, as well as mild (fever-range) and high temperature, MR-guided therapies are rapidly evolving into new clinical trial opportunities.

- Scientific presentations cover a diverse range of topics in thermal medicine, including low and high temperature treatment, anatomic, thermal, and functional imaging, and investigation of biology and immunology of thermal interventions and nanomedicine.
- High quality keynote and plenary lectures, and scientific presentations by leaders in the field and by outside experts.
- Special sessions are allocated specifically for vendor presentations during the meeting.
- Opportunities to meet and interact with the next generation of thermal medicine leaders, principal investigators/lab managers doing work in clinical applications, ablation, cell and molecular biology, immunology, radiation biology, nanotechnology.
- Opportunities to network with international research community to gain entry in untapped markets in the Americas, Europe, and Asia.

EXHIBIT SPACE

Each 10 ft. × 10 ft. space will be set with a 6 ft. × 30 in. table, clothed and skirted, and 2 chairs. Should you plan to bring a backdrop, the dimensions of your area are 10 ft. × 10 ft. Please ensure your display fits within that space.

Please contact the STM Business Manager, Christopher Lapine (clapine@allenpress.com) with any questions.
SET-UP AND TEAR DOWN

More information regarding set-up and tear down will be made available as the schedule becomes more concrete. Exhibitors may bring standard trade show displays and alter their space as desired. Each exhibitor must complete their own arrangements for set-up and removal of show materials from the hotel. If you require a slightly larger booth space, please contact the STM Business Manager, Christopher Lapine, clapine@allenpress.com.

STM prefers that no packing or dismantling take place until the exhibit area has officially closed. All space occupied by an exhibitor must be surrendered in the same condition as originally leased.
